ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE ON VETERANS AFFAIRS

Paul J. Cook, Chair

SJR 25 (Harman) – As Introduced: April 26, 2012

SENATE VOTE: 35-0

SUBJECT: Los Alamitos Joint Forces Training Base

SUMMARY: Urges California delegates of Congress to protect the Los Alamitos Joint Forces Training Base during any upcoming base realignment and closure (BRAC) processes. Specifically, this bill:

Resolves:

1. That the Legislature urges the representatives from California to the Congress of the United States to protect the Los Alamitos Joint Forces Training Base during any upcoming base realignment and closure processes; and
2. That the Secretary of the Senate transmit copies of this resolution to the Secretary of Defense of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Majority Leader of the Senate, to the minority leader of each house, to each Senator and Representative from California in the Congress of the United States and to the author for appropriate distribution.

EXISTING LAW: 10 U.S. Code section 2687 discusses the Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) process. No base (as defined) may be closed or realigned unless and until:

The Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of the military department concerned notifies the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives, as part of an annual request for authorization of appropriations to such Committees, of the proposed closing or realignment and submits with the notification

(A) an evaluation of the fiscal, local economic, budgetary, environmental, strategic, and operational consequences of such closure or realignment; and

(B) the criteria used to consider and recommend military installations for such closure or realignment.

FISCAL EFFECT: This measure is not keyed fiscal.

COMMENTS: Defense Secretary Leon Panetta included in the Department of Defense annual request for authorization a request for BRAC in 2013 and 2015. However, the House and Senate Armed Services committees rejected a new base-closing round in their versions of the annual defense authorization bill for next year. In addition, “It’s now clear obviously there will not be a round of BRAC authorized” in 2013, Panetta said in a speech to the Association of Defense

Communities in Monterey, California. Therefore it seems unlikely that BRAC will occur in 2013.

However, past rounds of BRAC had huge impacts on California. Total net DoD personnel cuts from the four BRAC Rounds in 1988, 1991, 1993, and 1995 for all U.S. states except California were 80,373; California lost 93,546. In those four rounds, California absorbed 54 percent of the nation's overall personnel cuts and lost nearly 30 major bases. In the 2005 round, over forty bases/installations and facilities were affected in the State.

Though BRAC seems unlikely to happen in 2013, it was requested by the DoD, and the NDAA versions thus far do not affect the possibility of BRAC after 2013. DoD's presence in California offers unique strategic military benefits to the Nation, particularly in light of the military's new focus on the Pacific region. Furthermore, DoD in 2009 spent approximately 56 billion dollars in California. Its contribution to the California economy continues to be extremely important. For all of the foregoing reasons, sending a strong message and taking a position of vigilance and concern about BRAC now is wise.

RELATED LEGISLATION:

AB 342 (Atkins, 2011)- Office of Planning and Research (OPR)- States that the OPR shall serve as the state's liaison to the DoD, particularly with regard to any proposed BRAC actions. In particular the OPR shall "...develop any necessary regional or stateside strategies necessary for the establishment and retention of the state's military facilities and installations that are potentially impacted by any proposed federal Base Realignment and Closure actions."
